Under Secretary Vilsack’s leadership, the U.S. Department of Agriculture is building back better by restoring the American economy, strengthening rural and historically underserved communities, responding to threats of climate change, creating good-paying jobs for American workers and the next generation of agricultural leaders, and investing in our kids and our families.

A native of Pittsburgh, Penn., Vilsack was born into an orphanage and adopted in 1951. After graduating from law school, Vilsack moved to Mt. Pleasant, Iowa, his wife Christie’s hometown, where he practiced law. The Vilsacks have two adult sons and two daughters-in-law — Doug, married to Janet; and Jess, married to Kate. AACC and ACCT are pleased to recognize Congresswoman Rosa DeLauro (CT-03) with the 2023 National Education Service Award. As Chair of the House Appropriations Committee, Rep. DeLauro has worked tirelessly to make higher education affordable and accessible to all — goals that align with the very existence of community colleges as the most affordable open access institutions in the country. During her time as an appropriator — particularly in the Labor, Health and Human Services, Education, and Related Agencies (LHHS) Subcommittee on Appropriations — she has been a champion for many community college funding priorities.

As chair of the Committee during the 116th Congress, she spearheaded efforts to establish a community college-specific workforce training program funded at the federal level. Over the past four federal appropriations cycles, she has been the lead sponsor of the Strengthening Community College Training Grants (SCCTG), which most recently received a $15 million increase in the Consolidated Appropriations...
Act, 2023 for a total funding of $65 million for fiscal year 2023 (FY 23). This program had been in dire need ever since funding for the TAACCCT program expired in 2018. Twenty-four community colleges, including 14 consortium grants, have been recipients of this grant through two award cycles. More awardees are expected to be announced from the third round of funding in the coming months and a fourth round should be released in 2023 with the new funding Congress has provided.

Beyond SCCTG, Congresswoman DeLauro has fought for increased investments in key federal programs that support community colleges and the students they serve. Notably in the 117th Congress, as Chair of the Committee she was able to secure historical increases to the maximum award of Pell Grants, which are the pillar of federal student financial aid. Programs like Child Care Access Means Parents in School (CCAMPIS) and the Strengthening Institutions Program (SIP) have also seen significant increases during her time as Chair.

Not only has Congresswoman DeLauro sought to strengthen the existing federal programs that support community colleges’ mission, she also helped establish new programs that tackle the issues our students are facing today. The Basic Needs Grant was established in the 117th Congress, most recently receiving a modest increase for FY 23. This program is designed to help institutions of higher education tackle issues such as food and housing insecurity in the student population. Under the Congresswoman’s leadership, we also saw the establishment of the Postsecondary Student Success Grants, a grant program designed to help elevate completion rates for struggling students. This program most recently received a sizeable increase of $40 million for FY 23.

On behalf of our member institutions and their students, ACCT and AACC thank Congresswoman DeLauro for her outstanding service to community colleges.

Policy Focus Session: Advancing Educational Equity & Opportunity For All: A Dialogue on the Biden Administration’s Efforts to Uplift Underrepresented Communities in Higher Education

Liberty Salon M, Meeting Level 4

Enrollment drops stemming from the COVID-19 pandemic took a heavy toll on community colleges as students had to choose between their health, jobs, or family, and continuing their postsecondary education. While recent enrollment data is promising and showing a reversal on the trends, it will take some time before we can bring back students from minority and underrepresented communities. Join us to hear the various efforts undertaken by the Biden administration to bolster enrollment and how community colleges can be partners in these efforts to open the doors of opportunity for economic advancement.

Concurrent Session: The Real Learning Gap: Addressing Affordability and Retention
University of DC & Catholic University, Meeting Level 1

The affordability gap in higher education is increasing and on average is more than $900 for students in 2-year institutions. While three out of four two-year surveyed students favorably affirmed that their education is worth it, they are struggling to balance these expenses with their personal lives because more than 70% are paying for their education themselves. These struggles are contributing to low enrollment and community colleges are implementing strategies to keep students in the classroom. In this session, the presenters will discuss affordability strategies for keeping students engaged and enrolled and what we heard from administrators, faculty and students on this issue in the Fall 2022 Digital Learning Pulse Survey.
